The spectrUM Discovery area and its parent organization, the Broader Impacts Group contracted Sirius Construction to perform the buildout of our new location at 812 Toole Ave.

We were consistently impressed with both the professionalism and quality of craftsmanship provided by Sirius during this process. The attention to detail and clear communication concerning all aspects of the project created a tailor-made space for our unique needs as a hands-on science museum.

Through their thoughtful approach to the design process and commitment to aligning the project budget with funds, our new location is a great value and beloved by Missoula children and their families. The quality of the work done by the company and its subcontractors was superb.

As we approach the end of our first year in our space, we absolutely love the end product that they helped to create.

Sincerely,
